

It's Too Late For Christmas, so...

HAPPY New Millennium

From

The Johnson's

Http://members.aol.com/rjohnboy/home.htm

Bryan is a teenager!

Our now 13 year old is into wrestling, golf and baseball. Hormones are kicking in as evidenced by a sudden and determined interest in the young ladies. Has passed his Mom in height and Dad in shoe size. Enjoys acting, as he played Harry Potter in his school Holiday pageant. Frequently reads the lessons in church and does an excellent job as he is as loud as his grandfather. Recently got 'Married' in his sociology class in school. I bet that girl needed some therapy after that experiment. Decided that playing the trumpet in the school band wasn't his destiny, so that's it for music then.

Ben is now 11. Still mad about basketball, soccer, golf and anything else sporty. Got slowed down twice this year with a broken wrist (not shown) and foot surgery (Look left).

Busted wrist followed falling off a massive load of firewood dad had dumped on the driveway. Foot surgery was due to bum genes (again from dad) that required surgery and cast. But the 'Jamin' is doing fine now. Is a Student Council Rep and in the chorus. Excited about graduating from Grade School in 2000.

Brett 'Stonewall' is now 9.

The social butterfly of the family with both the boys and the girls. Met 'Marilyn Monroe' at Universal Studios. Favorite show was the Alfred Hitchcock revue. Has started collecting all the Hitchcock horror classics probably on command from all the little 'voices' in his head.

Still best pals with his Grandpa. Got to experience the desert & mountains during his first trip to Phoenix with mom to visit our great friends, the Morans. Mom has promised to take each kid when she takes her long weekend visits out there in 2000.

Brad, is now 7. Baseball, golf, soccer, Harleys & WWF pretty much sum up his life. Sports highlite this year had to be getting a regulation '9' on 2nd hole at Royal Melbourne. Even had to go over water. Still the 'runt' of the family but will sprout soon. Does great in school and is an excellent speller.

Happy New Year To All

8 Face Cord Load - Ben Breaks Wrist Falling Off Top

Brad
Pumpkin
Carving

Now I Know
How Adam
Got In So Much
Trouble

Apple Picking
In October

Brettie Boy

Sidewalk Portrait,
Covent Garden, London

CSA Memorial
Shiloh, Tn

Boys Meet Dinosaur

1999 YEAR IN REVUE FAMILY PHOTO ALBUM

Bryan & Uncle Randy
With Prize Kill

Ben
Baseball

A LOOK BACK AT 1999'S BEST PICTURES

Getting Portrait
Covent Garden, London

Happy 2000

Desert At Favorite Restaurant
'Saleris' On The Strand